MACo Legislative Report: Harold Blattie, Sheryl Wood, and Shantil Siaperas

We had a hole in the health and human services area this year, with Sheryl taking over more of the office duties. We hired John Esp, former legislator with a background in mental health, taxes, and local government; he was a great asset. Shantil went from a legislative coordinator to carrying a huge bill load while keeping the website generally updated and doing legislative updates—heard good things about her from legislators. With Sheryl at the office more, Harold was free to be at the Capitol more and behind the scenes.

Additional Legislative Notes

- Land Use Bills: We have Tara DePuy, MACo JPIA Land Use Attorney, covering land use issues for us at the Capitol. This is the first session since the inception of the subdivision and platting act that it was not amended—there were attempts but nothing passed. Tara did a good job derailing bad bills.
- There were several bills related to “attorney’s fees” and “public’s right-to-know;” the bills that passed say “may recover attorney’s fees” instead of “shall”
- Some bills that did not pass included study on transportation, major infrastructure bills, work comp fraud, sheriffs’ pension funding, and eliminating jail time for certain misdemeanors.

Other District Business
